THE UNIVERSITY

J.C. Bose University of Science and Technology, YMCA, Faridabad (formerly YMCA University of Science and Technology) was established in 2009 by Haryana State Legislative Act No. 21 of 2009 and Haryana Government Gazette Notification No. 29 of 2009, dated 16.9.2009. Before the University came into existence, it had a humble beginning in 1969 as YMCA Institute of Engineering with an intake of 120 students. It was an Indo-German Project – a Joint Venture of the State Government (erstwhile Punjab) and National Council of YMCAs of India with active assistance from overseas Agencies of West Germany. The Institute was started with the aim to impart technical education to a developing India on German pattern and to produce highly practical oriented personnel in specialized fields of engineering to meet specific technical manpower requirements of industries.

During its formative years, the land of 20 acres to YMCAIE was provided by the State Government for the construction of teaching block, hostels and residential campus. The labs and workshops were set up with the assistance of German expertise. The State Govt. started funding 100% grant-in-aid to YMCAIE from the year 1994 onwards, and subsequently took over the management and the resources in the year 1998. The YMCAIE was upgraded to the University by the Legislative Act 21 of 2009. The UGC granted the 12(B) status to the University in the Year 2012 enabling it to receive grants from UGC. The University accredited by NAAC with 'A' Grade in the first circle of accreditation in the year 2016. In 2017, it got the status to grant affiliation to the Engineering Colleges situated in District Palwal and Faridabad. In 2018, the University was named after the great scientist Jagadish Chandra Bose by the State Government vide a notification dated 11.10.2018 (Haryana Legislative Act No. 29 of 2018).

The present campus of the University is situated on National Highway-2, Mathura Road, 30 km from National Capital, Delhi. The University campus is located in the sprawling Faridabad-Ballabgarh Industrial Complex. The State Government has also allotted 18 acres of land to the University on Faridabad-Gurugram Road in Village Bhakari for its second campus.

SIR JAGADISH CHANDRA BOSE

(Nov. 30, 1858 - Nov. 23, 1937)

Shri Jagadish Chandra Bose was a pioneer scientist who investigated radio and microwave optics. He was a polymath, physicist, botanist, biologist, biophysicist and archaeologist. He made significant contributions to plant science, and laid the foundations of experimental science in India. Even a crater on the moon has been named in his honour.

He was the first person to prove that plants also have the ability to feel pain and affection. Jagdish Chandra Bose was an Indian polymath whose research has extensively contributed to the fields of botany, physics and radio science. He is credited to have laid the foundations of experimental science in India and was a pioneer in the area of microwave optics technology. He designed a galena receiver which was amongst the earlier examples of a lead sulphide photo conducting device. A polymath, Jagdish Chandra Bose left an indelible mark in several fields of study.

He invented the Cresco graph for measuring the growth in plants using a series of clockwork gears. He is also credited with the invention of the first wireless detection devices; an invention he never tried to get patented himself. He was made Companion of the order of the Indian Empire in 1903 and Companion of the Order of the Star of India in 1912 in recognition of his contributions to science. Jagdish Chandra was acknowledged by IEEE, USA as one of the pioneers in the discovery of radio.

I think YMCA has contributed a lot in making me what I am today. The personal attention given by the teachers and the efforts they put in made me a technocrat. My teachers ensured that I became a better person and my friends made sure that I follow my dreams. It's been a decade now that I have been away from university and I still miss all the giggles and frills, the time spent at the canteen, hostel and the annual function 'Culmica', but I miss my teachers and friends the most.
